Re: Letter of Reference for Bright Solar Systems

To whom it may concern,

I have been a business owner for two decades. During that time, I have interfaced with hundreds of professionals in dozens of industries.

I have come to understand that successful business people are those who possess one of the following three traits: A highly developed level of professionalism; a strong work ethic; or an unwavering dedication to their clients.

Every so often, we come across someone who demonstrates two of these traits. Rarely do we encounter one who is blessed with all three.

Alicia Valdes is one of the unique individuals to be included in this class.

Alicia understands and demonstrates that accomplishing the mission requires painstaking preparation, ceaseless effort, keen focus on the goals of her clients and an unwavering commitment to the morals and ethics expected of a trusted partner.

Sincerely,
